

Abstract template for the workshop on Irradiation effects on high temperature superconductors

F. First<sup>*,1</sup>, S. Second<sup>2</sup>, and T. Third<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup>Department, University, City, Country

<sup>2</sup>Department, University, City, Country

*Contact: f.first@university.com

The abstract should be fully contained in one page. A maximum of one image (fig. 1) could be included. References should be indicated in square brackets [1–4]. The abstract should describe the topic of the presentation in detail.

The abstract should be fully contained in one page. A maximum of one image (fig. 1) could be included. References should be indicated in square brackets [1–4]. The abstract should describe the topic of the presentation in detail. The abstract should be fully contained in one page. A maximum of one image (fig. 1) could be included. References should be indicated in square brackets [1–4]. The abstract should describe the topic of the presentation in detail. The abstract should be fully contained in one page. A maximum of one image (fig. 1) could be included. References should be indicated in square brackets [1–4]. The abstract should describe the topic of the presentation in detail. The abstract should be fully contained in one page. A maximum of one image (fig. 1) could be included. References should be indicated in square brackets [1–4]. The abstract should describe the topic of the presentation in detail. The abstract should be fully contained in one page. A maximum of one image (fig. 1) could be included. References should be indicated in square brackets [1–4]. The abstract should describe the topic of the presentation in detail. The abstract should be fully contained in one page. A maximum of one image (fig. 1) could be included. References should be indicated in square brackets [1–4]. The abstract should describe the topic of the presentation in detail. The abstract should be fully contained in one page. A maximum of one image (fig. 1) could be included. References should be indicated in square brackets [1–4]. The abstract should describe the topic of the presentation in detail.

Figure 1: The logo of the conference acts a placeholder. Up to one image is acceptable but not compulsory.

Acknowledgments

Please acknowledge here funding sources if necessary.

- [1] A. Author, et.al., "Title", Journal, vol. pag. (year)
- [2] A. Author, et.al., "Title", Journal, vol. pag. (year)
- [3] A. Author, et.al., "Title", Journal, vol. pag. (year)
- [4] A. Author, et.al., "Title", Journal, vol. pag. (year)